BOSTON ARCHITECTURAL COLLEGE (BAC) HIGH SCHOOL SUMMER ACADEMY
Location: Boston, MA
Program Dates: TBA
Description: From website: Summer Academy has been part of the Boston Architectural College (BAC) curriculum since 1973. Our design exploration program is open to all high school students entering grades 10 and above. High school students attending Summer Academy during the month of July work in small studio teams building design skills in freehand sketching, perspective drawing and collage, model-making, mapping, and diagramming as they explore creative solutions to architectural problems at the scale of the body, the building, and the city. Everyone is challenged to think critically and communicate their creative design ideas to others. By making physical models, ideas are tested and teamwork is encouraged. During the course of the month, Summer Academy students expand their understanding of the impact of design around them and learn about the ways design can change communities and improve lives. As a student in the program, you will leave Summer Academy with new skills in design thinking that are applicable to many problems and types of work you may encounter whether you choose to concentrate in a design field or another area of study. Residential accommodations are NOT available through the program.

CONVENTICULUM LATINUM LEXINTONIENSE -- CONVERSATIONAL LATIN SEMINARS
From website: The summer Latin seminar provides a stimulating occasion in which participants can live for an extended period of time in an all-Latin environment, speaking and hearing no language but Latin. Not surprisingly, many participants will find that cultivating the active use of Latin in both speaking and writing helps their reading fluency. Not only teachers, who wish to develop their ability to use Latin actively and extemporize in the classroom in order to enliven the learning experience for students, and to augment whatever teaching methods they prefer to use, but anyone at all devoted to Latin, such as researchers and those who read Latin for personal enrichment, can benefit from the seminar. In fact, the most important function of the seminar is to help those who take part in it to acquire a more instinctive command of the Latin language. With such a command of Latin a person can understand Latin writings more directly and easily, without being compelled so often to translate and to think in another language. Since 2010, an additional active Latin seminar is taught by the UK professors Milena Minkova and Terence Tunberg at Dickinson College in Carlisle, Pennsylvania.
Note: Although this program is intended for teachers, researchers, and college students, high school students who have a strong proficiency in Latin are welcome to attend the program. Please speak with Mrs. Thorpe if you are considering applying for the program. https://mcl.as.uky.edu/conventiculum-latinum

ITHACA COLLEGE

Location: Ithaca, NY
Program Dates: June 25 - 30 or July 2 - 21
Application Deadline: Open now
Description: From website: Acting I [gives an] opportunity to explore some fundamental acting concepts and techniques through exercises, improvisations, presentations, readings and discussions. It is a way of understanding what we do in life and making it work on stage. Acting is a life-enhancing process that involves commitment and focus with a willingness to explore and communicate. Both newcomers to acting and those who have experience will have a chance to challenge themselves and enjoy the work. Classes begin with a vocal and physical warm-up preparing everyone for the day’s work followed by theatre games, projects and script work (monologues and scenes). We create an ensemble where students feel free to work together and give feedback. Over the course of the semester you will learn improvisation and audition techniques and work on a monologue and a scene. Some techniques explored are Meisner, Stanislavski, sensory work, mime and Rasa Boxes.

Application Deadline: Deadlines vary depending on session - see website
Description: From website: Every summer, students and teachers, scholars and artists, entrepreneurs and political leaders from around the world gather at the Middlebury Language Schools. The catalyst for this miracle is the Language Pledge, a promise made by students, faculty, and staff to communicate solely in their language of choice for the duration of their time in the program. Within the classroom, the Language Pledge supports the creation of a solid foundation in language—reading, writing, listening, and speaking. Outside the classroom, the Pledge fosters meaningful engagement and fluency acquisition, as students participate in a vast range of curricular activities, all of which happen in language. Language programs include: Chinese, Japanese, Spanish, Russian, French, German, Arabic, Hebrew, Korean, and Portuguese.

Business Is Global: Summer Language Program
Location: Bloomington, IN
Program Dates: July 2 - 15
Application Deadline: April 15
Description: High school students: Immerse yourself in the cultures and languages of East Asia, the Middle East and North Africa, and Turkey while exploring career options
Applications for Summer are now live! See bottom of page for details and to Apply now!
If you are a high school sophomore, junior, or senior interested in experiencing the intersection of business, language, and culture—this two-week program is for you. This intensive experience, presented by IU CIBER (the Indiana University Center for International Business Education and Research) will bring to life the phrase, “Business is global.”
Video: Business is Global
The program's curriculum, supported by the Arabic Flagship Center, Chinese Flagship Center, and the Turkish Flagship Center in the IU School of Global and International Studies, will introduce you to the less-commonly taught foreign languages spoken in these emerging economies:
- Arabic: Middle East and North Africa
- Mandarin Chinese: East Asia
- Turkish: Turkey
Throughout the two-week program, you will:
- Learn about the cultures and communication styles of these regions and countries.
- Stay in an IU residence hall which has been transformed to reflect the food, décor, and pop culture of the targeted regions.

JOHN F. KENNEDY INSTITUTE OF GOVERNMENT (CHOATE)
Location: Wallingford, CT
Program Dates: June 25 - July 28
Application Deadline: Open now - see website
Description: From website: Established to honor the memory of President Kennedy — a member of Choate’s Class of 1935 — The John F. Kennedy ’35 Institute in Government is designed to stimulate your curiosity about public policy and your desire to serve the public interest. The highlight of the program is 5 days in Washington, D.C. As a Kennedy Institute participant, you will see government in operation by watching House and Senate debates; observing committee hearings on Capitol Hill; and spending time with officials in The White House and Supreme Court. You will get a real insider’s feel for politics by meeting with representatives of interest groups, national political parties, and the media. Applicants for The Kennedy Institute should have completed their freshman year in high school and a course in U.S. history or its equivalent. Knowledge of politics is not necessary, but your desire and willingness to be engaged in various topics — politics, economics, or international affairs — is essential. [Link]

ARETE PROGRAM AT THE UNIVERSITY OF DALLAS

Location: Irving TX
Program Dates: July 9 - 22
Application Deadline: February 15
Description: From website: According to the great texts of the past, the noble life requires removing all scales from one's eyes and seeing clearly. The next step is to "do" the right thing: to be able to choose, in sometimes ambiguous circumstances, the path that leads to freedom rather than enslavement. This twofold process, one which encourages us to live nobly, has formed the basis of Liberal Education and constitutes the foundation on which civilization rests. In introducing you to the essential texts of Western Civilization and allowing you to reflect on works of fine art, film and music, Arete will offer you a taste of how education frees us.
THE EXCEL PROGRAM AT AMHERST COLLEGE
Location: Amherst, MA
Program Dates: Dates vary per session - see website
Application Deadline: Open now - see website
Description: From website: Located in Massachusetts’ Pioneer Valley, Amherst College has been committed to the pursuit of academic excellence since its founding in 1821. As a Putney Pre-College student, you spend four hours a day pursuing two areas of interest in small, active seminars. Seminars encourage collaboration and hands-on learning, allowing you to get out of the classroom often for field trips, experiments, performances, college tours, field assignments, and to meet with local experts. Without the pressure of grades or tests, you can enjoy delving into your courses without the stress that comes along with a traditional classroom. Seminars are limited to ten students or fewer. Pre-College Amherst participants hail from all around the United States as well as international destinations.

LATIN IN ROME PROGRAM AT THE UNIVERSITY OF DALLAS
Location: Rome, Italy
Program Dates: July 8 - 31
Application Deadline: After February 15, rolling basis
Description: From website: Our purpose is to stimulate students - to awaken an interest in the history, politics, art and architecture of Rome, while engaged in advanced study of Latin and the people who spoke it. Most of the places we visit will be the immediate subject of the tutorial sessions. In such a setting, grammar becomes a map to a familiar place, and vocabulary a newly discovered old friend. Above all, we strive to preserve what some have called a "dead language" in living minds. And, as you probably know, such study has always been thought to be the irreplaceable foundation of a truly liberal education.

SHAKESPEARE IN ITALY PROGRAM AT THE UNIVERSITY OF DALLAS
Location: Rome, Italy
Program Dates: July 8 - 28
Application Deadline: After February 15 - rolling basis
Description: From website: Shakespeare was a great English playwright and poet who chose to set many of his plays in Italy. Shakespeare's Italian plays depict different periods of time from the early moments of the Roman Republic through the decline of the Empire, to the height of the Italian Renaissance. The purpose of our travels in Italy is both to stimulate a genuine interest in literature, art and theology, and to raise certain main issues that are prominent in these fields. History and drama intersect at every site, resulting in a greater awareness of our Western heritage and a deeper understanding of Shakespeare’s art.

ASHBROOK ACADEMY AT ASHLAND UNIVERSITY
Location: Ashland, OH
Program Dates: June 18 - 24
Application Deadline: May 1
Description: The Ashbrook Academy is a summer program designed for rising high school juniors and seniors who share a deep interest in American history and politics. Unlike other courses or programs that tend to erode young Americans’ proper pride in their country by emphasizing its historical failures, the Academy invites students to consider the American experiment as a historical triumph, a victory for reason and the human spirit that warrants grateful celebration but also demands serious study. We welcome your participation.
The Academy meets for seven days at the Ashbrook Center on the campus of Ashland University in Ashland, Ohio immersing participants in a deep study of the biggest challenges that have faced our Republic. This summer we will be holding two separate academies simultaneously – one that will survey the most important questions that have faced our nation from its founding to the civil rights era and a second that will provide a more focused study on the Civil War era for more advanced students.

Contact your senator’s office for more information on applying to be a Senate Page
From website: The Senate gained its first page in 1829, a nine-year-old boy named Grafton Hanson who was appointed by Senator Daniel Webster. Throughout the 19th century, Senate pages served as messengers and general helpers. Usually around twelve years old, early pages were often local orphans or children of widowed mothers and their Senate income helped the family. Today, Senate pages come from all 50 states. Still appointed and sponsored by a senator, they must be high school juniors, at least sixteen years old, and attend school. Senate page duties consist primarily of delivery of correspondence and legislative material within the Congressional complex. Other duties include preparing the chamber for Senate sessions, and carrying bills and amendments to the desk. Pages attend classes in the early morning at the United States Senate Page School, a program fully accredited by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools. Contact your senator’s office for more information on applying to be a Senate Page.

Description: from website: Do you want to explore and create mathematics? Then read on, for that's what MathILy is all about! In MathILy classes, instructors provide the framework and you get to make (and prove!) the conjectures. You will encounter new ideas, improve your problem-solving skills, learn lots and lots of advanced mathematics, and hone your overall thinking skills. You'll meet others like you. (Yes, really. We promise.) Most of all, you will find serious mathematics infused with levity.

MathPath (Ages 11 - 14)
Location: South Hadley, MA
Program Dates: June 25 - July 23
Application Deadline: rolling basis - see website

JUNIOR STATESMEN SUMMER SCHOOL AND SYMPOSIUM ON POLITICS AND GOVERNMENT
Location: Locations vary - see website
Program Dates: Dates vary depending on location
Application Deadline: see website
Description: From website: Government “by the people, for the people” requires the informed and engaged participation of its citizens. More than just learning about the issues and forming opinions, people in a healthy democracy get involved and take action. JSA does more than educate students and train them to speak out. JSA challenges students to “be the people” who are actively engaged in making their communities, states and the world a better place. In addition to the Summer School, JSA sponsors Summer Institutes on politics and current issues as well as school year conventions and conferences. The largest student-run organization in the nation, JSA is a non-profit, non-partisan organization providing a one-of-a-kind forum for politics and debate. Founded over 80 years ago by high school students, the JSA program today has had over 500,000 participants from across the country and the world, and is the world’s premiere organization for educating young people on the merits, opportunities, challenges and responsibilities of leading within a democratic society.

LOTT LEADERSHIP INSTITUTE @ THE UNIVERSITY OF MISSISSIPPI
Location: University,, MS
Program Dates: May 28 - June 30 or June 25 - July 28
Application Deadline: February 1
Description: From website: The Summer Leadership Institute for High School Students is a partnership between the University of Mississippi’s Lott Leadership Institute and the Division of Outreach’s Summer College for High School Students. The goals of the program are to develop leadership skills in young citizens and prepare them for college. In order to achieve these goals, the Summer Leadership Institute brings together student leaders from across the Southeast to earn college credit on the UM campus and to begin the study of leadership. Included in the program are opportunities to mingle with college administrators, student leaders, and community leaders while participating in current event debates, discussions, and decision-making activities. The program culminates with a one-week trip to Washington, D.C., during which the participants see the federal government in action, hear from national leaders, and tour the nation's Capital. The ideal outcome is for students who complete the program to return to their high schools and put their new skills to work for the betterment of their own schools and communities.

Online Learning

Summer programs may not be accessible to everyone, but Online Learning is! Take advantage of these FREE opportunities to learn something new.

25 Sites For Free Online Education BY ALICIA PRINCE

1. Coursera
Coursera.org is a website that partners with universities and organizations around the world. This brings a wide variety of topics and perspectives to one searchable database. Coursera is a powerful tool for free online education, and includes courses from many top universities, museums and trusts. This gives the site an extremely wide range of in-depth courses. Coursera is extremely useful if you’re looking to study many different topics, or want courses from different schools and groups.

2. Khan Academy
Partnering with many post secondary schools, Khan Academy offers a useable, well organized interface. Also curating many courses from around the web, Khan Academy offers impressive depth on many different subjects. Among the more well known educational sites, Khan Academy is also incredibly useable, which may make it easier to keep learning goals.

3. Open Culture Online Courses
If you are struggling to find exactly the material you are looking for, try Open Culture’s listing of free online education courses. The page highlights 1000 lectures, videos and podcasts from universities around the world. The site features a lot of material found only on universities private sites, all in easy to browse categories. This means you can find hundreds of university courses, without having to visit and search each university’s own site. Open Culture’s list features courses from England, Australia, Wales and many state universities around the United States. A very helpful resource for finding many courses in one area of study.

4. Udemy
Udemy’s free courses are similar in concept to Coursera’s but additionally allows users to build custom courses from lessons. Working with many top professors and schools, the site mixes the customizable platform of other sites with a heavy emphasis on top quality content. This is another site however, that mixes free and paid content.

5. Academic Earth
Another site with courses from many different schools is Academic Earth. Much like the three sites above, Academic Earth brings together top notch courses from many different sources, and focuses on offering a wide variety of subjects. Academic Earth lists courses by subject and school, so it might be easier to find what you’re looking for.

6. edX
Another great option for free online education is edX. Also bringing together courses from many different schools, the site has impressive, quality information for everyone. edX covers a great range of topics.

7. Alison
Unlike the previous sites on this list, Alison is a free education site offering certification in some areas. Alison offers courses mainly in business, technology, and health, but also includes language learning courses. A great option if users need certification for their learning, Alison also offers school curriculum courses.

8. iTunesU Free Courses

A very convenient place for free online education is iTunesU, because it integrates seamlessly with your iPod, or any app-ready Apple mobile device. On iPad, iPhone, or iPod touch, users download the iTunesU app. Desktop users can access iTunesU on the upper right hand corner of the iTunes Store. iTunesU is also convenient because the store is categorized much like iTunes. Users can search for learning materials in many different ways, including genre and topic. However, courses are often a mix of free podcasts or videos, and paid content. iTunesU does include courses on a pretty wide scope of topics, but does not integrate with Android, Google or Windows mobile devices.

9. Stanford Online

Your hub for all the online offerings from Stanford University, Stanford Online offers self-paced and session based courses. While Coursera features some courses from Stanford, many classes are only available via other hosts. Some courses require iTunes, but most are completed in your web browser. Stanford Online is a great site for high quality courses, though the topics are somewhat limited compared to sites partnered with more than one school.

10. Harvard Extension

Like Stanford Online, Harvard Extension features free online education courses from Harvard only. This is another excellent source for top notch course material, though the course variety is less rich than multi-school sites. Additionally, Harvard Extension allows you to search for courses by professional certificate. This makes it much easier if your online education goal includes certification.

11. Open Yale Courses

Open Yale Courses echoes Harvard Extension and Stanford Online, in that it offers only courses from Yale. While the site is similarly limited to topics taught at the school, Open Yale Courses offers a lot of videos of actual campus lectures. The availability of videos makes the site a great option if you’re looking for quality courses, but learn better by watching than by reading.

12. UC Berkeley Class Central

Much like the other schools on this list, UC Berkeley has a variety of free online education options. The school has slightly fewer courses than the schools above, but includes some supplementary lectures, webcasts and RSS Feeds, making it easy to keep up with the topics you choose.

13. MIT OpenCourseWare

Similarly, MIT offers a variety of free courses. The school has a comparable number of courses to the schools above, plus includes very in-depth course materials on the subjects available. MIT also offers free RSS feeds, a convenient way to continue learning.

14. Carnegie Mellon Open Learning Initiative

Carnegie Mellon’s free online education site is comparable with the other school’s on this list, however, Open Learning Initiative also covers a smaller range of topics. But for the topics that are covered impressive, in-depth material is available.
15. Codecademy
Codecademy is a website dedicated specifically to teaching coding. Where other coding sites follow an example/practice session workflow, Codecademy includes a live practice window. This means you can practice coding while still viewing the lesson material. The courses at Codecademy are well written and easy to follow and the website is organized very nicely. Codecademy features a centralized dashboard where you can monitor your progress, plus organizes lessons into complete modules. This lets you learn an entire language without needing to pick the next course manually.

16. Code
Code is another website focused on coding and app writing. A site with high quality courses, Code also features learning options for kids. In addition to kid friendly courses, Code offers free online education classes on a wide variety of technology topics. These classes include app writing, robotics and Javascript. Most of the courses are also geared in a such a way that they can be useful in a classroom setting. This makes Code a great resource for harder to find coding topics, as well as various learning settings.

17. University of London Podcasts
The podcast page on the University of London website is another great source for free education. While the courses are limited to podcasts, the site features podcasts from it’s own campus, as well as eleven universities in and around London. This gives learners a wide base of topics and lectures, but still ensures in-depth material.

18. University of Oxford Podcasts
Similar to the University of London, the University of Oxford features many different podcasts. Most are public lecture series or lectures from visiting professors, with several different recordings available. The advantage to this particular site is that podcasts are organized into series, making it easy to subscribe to multiple lectures on one topic. Another good site for thoroughly in-depth lectures.

19. BBC Podcasts
For the more casual learner, the BBC offers a wide variety of podcasts on many different topics. Most podcasts are updated weekly, and focus on everything from finance, to sports, to current events. Through the World Service line of podcasts, there are also many in different languages. The focus of these podcasts are less in-depth and theory based, which may be more accessible to the average person.

20. TED-Ed
Another great destination for more general learning is TED-Ed. From the same people that brought you the all encompassing, motivational web series, comes a site chocked full of educational videos. Most include impressive animation, and all are ten minutes long or less. Not only is TED-Ed an excellent site for the curious, it also includes supplemental materials and quizzes on the videos. This makes the site extremely useful in formal education settings, as well as in entertaining ways to brush up on new discoveries and topics.

21. LessonPaths
LessonPaths is another great tool for those looking for a more usable and convenient way to access learning material. On this site, users create link playlists of their favorite learning materials from other sites. Users then rank these collections, making it easy to find many different high quality, accessible sources on a given topic.

22. Memrise
Another impressive free online education site offering ease of use and convenience is Memrise. Available both on desktop and as an app, Memrise is a particularly powerful tool if you are studying a language. The site encompasses many other topics as well, though some of the course material is user generated content. Part of what makes Memrise special is their integration of games into the learning materials, mixing learning with entertainment.

CATAPULT ENGINEERING ACADEMY
From Auburn University's website: CEA is an online, college-prep high school engineering curriculum developed and taught by Dr. Mark Conner. Dr. Conner is a mechanical engineer who has been teaching high school since 1996 and has 10 years’ experience teaching undergraduate engineering courses. The curriculum is designed to mirror the first two years of collegiate engineering, in order to prepare students for the rigor of undergraduate engineering degree programs and provide them with the knowledge, training, and tools to excel as undergraduate engineering students. Learn more about Catapult Engineering Academy and register for courses at catapultea.com

EDUCATION-PORTAL.COM
From website: Our courses are engaging video summaries of textbook material. They are a fast, effective way to study for any subject and be better prepared for your next test. The lessons are short and concise, with lots of examples to help you master the material quickly.

OPENSTAX
From website: OpenStax believes that everyone has something to learn, and everyone has something to teach. Frustrated by the limitations of traditional textbooks and courses, Dr. Richard Baraniuk founded OpenStax (then Connexions) in 1999 at Rice University to provide authors and learners with an open space where they can share and freely adapt educational materials such as courses, books, and reports. Today, OpenStax CNX is a dynamic non-profit digital ecosystem serving millions of users per month in the delivery of educational content to improve learning outcomes. There are tens of thousands of learning objects, called pages, that are organized into thousands of textbook-style books in a host of disciplines, all easily accessible online and downloadable to almost any device, anywhere, anytime.

If You Love Science, These Summer Programs Are Worth a Look

By Eileen Cody

http://collegeapps.about.com/od/extracurricular/tp/summer-programs-science.htm

Summer Science Program

Location: Locations vary depending on session - see website

Program Dates: June 18-July 26 or June 25- August 2

Application Deadline: March 3

Description: The Summer Science Program (SSP) is a residential academic enrichment program for gifted rising high school seniors offered at both the New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology in Sorocco, New Mexico and Westmont College in Santa Barbara, California. The SSP curriculum is centered around a group research project to determine the orbit of an asteroid, and participants study college-level astronomy, physics, calculus and programming. Students also attend guest lectures and go on field trips. The program runs for approximately five weeks. Learn more.

Boston Leadership Institute: Biological Research

Location: Boston, MA

Program Dates: June 26-July 14 or July 17-August 4

Application Deadline: Open now - see website

Description: The flagship program of the Boston Leadership Institute, this program is a three-week course in the field of biological research. Activities include hands-on laboratory work, private tours and fields trips to various sites around Boston, and in-depth research papers and presentations. The course is taught by Whitney Hagins, an award-winning biology teacher at one of the top public high schools in the country. Students can choose to commute or stay in one of the residence halls at Bentley University in Waltham, Massachusetts. Learn more.

Elmhurst College

Location: Elmhurst, Illinois

Application Deadline: TBA

Program Dates: TBA

Description: The Academy is a remarkable two-week program for students between their junior and senior year in high school, who are considering careers in areas such as mathematics, and the natural and physical sciences. In classes and seminars, you’ll sharpen your math skills, explore important topics in science, and master a variety of computer programs. Financial Aid: Scholarships are available

Research Science Institute

Location: Boston, MA

Program Dates: June 25-August 5

Application Deadline: Now closed

Description: The Research Science Institute (RSI) is an intensive summer program for outstanding high school students offered by the Center for Excellence in Education and hosted at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Participants have the opportunity to experience the entire research cycle through coursework in scientific theory and hands-on practice in science and technology research, culminating in oral and written research reports. The program includes one week of classes and a five-week research internship where students conduct their individual research project. RSI is cost-free to students. Learn more.

HILLSDALE SUMMER SCIENCE CAMPS

Location: Hillsdale, MI
Program Dates: June 25-30
Application Deadline: March 15
Description: From website: Rising high school sophomores and juniors are invited to deepen their scientific understanding and appreciation with Hillsdale College faculty in camps focused on molecular biology, chemistry and physics, and mathematics. Students of all academic interests are invited to attend, with at least one year of respective study being suggested as preparation. An optional examination at the conclusion of the camp provides the opportunity to earn one undergraduate college credit hour. Summer Science Camps are made possible by a grant from the Donald L. Murdock Foundation.

California NanoSystems Institute NanoScience Lab
Location: Los Angeles, CA
Program Dates: August 6-11 or August 13-18
Application Deadline: open now - see website
Description: This program, offered by the California NanoSystems Institute at the University of California Los Angeles, is a workshop for rising high school sophomores, juniors and seniors to explore advanced scientific methods and technology. Participants will complete hands-on nanoscience activities and experiments related to subjects including biotoxicity, photolithography, supercapacitors, solar cells and super hydrophobic surfaces. The workshop runs for five days and carries two quarter units of UCLA course credit. Learn more.

National Youth Science Camp (NYSC)
Location: Davis, W.V.
Program Dates: June 14-July 8
Application Deadline: March 1
Description: The National Youth Science Camp (NYSC) is an intense month-long camp for young scientists the summer after high school graduation. Students must demonstrate academic proficiency in either mathematics or the sciences as well as other documented leadership skills. Located within a rustic setting, students from around the country are challenged in lectures, hands-on studies and are able to participate in an outdoor adventure program. Because special events are planned to surprise participants each day, the camp does not publish detailed program calendars. Learn more about the National Youth Science Camp.

HIGH SCHOOL SUMMER SCIENCE RESEARCH PROGRAM @ BAYLOR
Location: Waco, TX
Program Dates: July 5 - August 8
Application Deadline: March 2
Description: From website: The purpose of the Baylor University Summer Science Research Program (BUSSRP) is to give superior students hands-on research experience by working on research projects with Baylor University science professors in many disciplines. The research program occurs during the University's second session of summer school.

EUGENE AND RUTH ROBERTS SUMMER STUDENT ACADEMY

Location: Duarte CA

Program Dates: see website

Application Deadline: March 9

Description: From website: City of Hope's Eugene and Ruth Roberts Summer Student Academy gives curious and hardworking students the opportunity to learn about science by actually doing it. Unlike traditional high school or college classes where the course of study is entirely determined by the instructor, City of Hope’s summer program students select their own research project according to their individual areas of interest. Selected participants then spend 10 weeks working full-time as a member of a biomedical research team.

GIRLS ON ICE:

Location: Locations vary depending on session - see website

Program Dates: Dates vary depending on location - see website

Application Deadline: January 31

Description: a free wilderness education program, is accepting applications now through Jan. 29. Each year, two teams of nine teenage girls and three instructors spend 12 days exploring and learning about mountain glaciers and alpine landscapes in Alaska or Washington through scientific field studies with professional glaciologists, artists and mountaineers. The program, operated by the University of Alaska Fairbanks College of Natural Science and Mathematics, will offer two expeditions this year:

● Girls on Ice Alaska is designed specifically for girls ages 16 to 18 who are from Alaska, the Pacific Northwest, British Columbia, Yukon or California.

● The Girls on Ice North Cascades expedition is geared toward girls from all countries ages 16 to 18 and explores Mount Baker, an ice-covered volcano in Washington. To be eligible, girls must be at least 16 years old by June 17 and no older than 18 on July 21.

The program helps girls learn about the natural processes that create the alpine world, develop critical thinking skills and explore the connection between science and art. Participants learn how to travel on glaciers, design their own experiments and work as part of a team. Girls are able to participate in this program tuition-free through small grants, gifts from individuals and support from the National Science Foundation, the Alaska Climate Science Center and the University of Alaska Fairbanks. For more information and to learn about the application process, go to http://girlsonice.org/apply/.

Rockefeller University Summer Science Research Program (SSRP)

Location: New York, NY
Program Dates: June 26 - August 10
Application Deadline: Closed
Description: The Rockefeller University Summer Science Research Program (SSRP) provides high school students with a unique and personalized opportunity to conduct hands-on research under the mentorship of leading scientists at one of the world’s premier biomedical research facilities. During this rigorous 7-week program, SSRP students become immersed in scientific culture while gaining an appreciation for the process of biomedical discovery.

To be eligible for SSRP participation, students must be enrolled in a high school and must be at least 16 years old at the start of the program. No exceptions. Students must also commit to participating for the entirety of the seven-week program. Labs are unable to accommodate students for a shorter period, as it can be time-consuming to properly train a student on laboratory protocols. Lastly, eligible students should demonstrate a sincere interest in science, which must be reflected by official school coursework. To apply:

Biosphere 2’s Summer Science Academy

Location: Tucson, AZ
Program Dates: Check online for program dates.
Application Deadline: Open now - see website http://biosphere2.org/education/student-science-academy
Description: Do you know a young person interested in science? Biosphere 2 is pleased to announce the Summer Science Academy, a unique educational experience unlike anything else in the world. Middle and high school students interested in earth and ecosystem sciences, collaboration, and leadership development are invited to spend a week at the iconic Biosphere 2 research facility. Come join the cutting-edge science community at the University of Arizona for a world-class educational adventure!

Student participants will learn and practice science 'under-the-glass', participating in hands-on research projects in the Biosphere 2 biomes: tropical rainforest, savanna, ocean, mangrove marsh, and coastal fog desert. Participants will apply scientific skills to conduct experiments and collect data while working side-by-side with Biosphere 2 researchers. The week will culminate with presentations of research findings. All instruction and activities are conducted in English.
A student-written essay is part of the application. A separate teacher recommendation should be emailed to: b2sciacad@email.arizona.edu.
The email subject line should be: “Teacher Recommendation for (first and last name of applying student), Biosphere 2 Summer Science Academy”.
The body of the email should include, “Why the student would be a good candidate to attend the week-long Biosphere 2 Summer Science Academy (e.g. academic capabilities, interest in science, social skills, maturity, enthusiasm, etc.)”
Each teacher should also include their contact information, including their name, their school name, grade and subject taught, email address, and phone number.

CORNELL OCEANOGRAPHY OF THE GULF OF MAINE

Location: Appledore, MN
Program Dates: July 3-17 or July 31 - August 14
Application Deadline: Open now - see website
Description: From website: A joint venture between Sea Education Association & Cornell University's Shoals Marine Laboratory, Oceanography of the Gulf of Maine allows students to study offshore oceanography while making a transit from Cape Cod to coastal Maine, and then to study the intertidal zone of Appledore Island, Maine. Two Cornell University credits are issued for completion of this program.

CORNELL RESEARCH APPRENTICESHIP IN BIOLOGICAL SCIENCES

Location: Ithaca, NY
Program Dates: June 24 - August 5
Application Deadline: March 10
Description: From website: The Cornell University Research Apprenticeship in the Biological Sciences (RABS) offers serious, research-oriented students the rare opportunity to join a top-notch laboratory at one of the world’s leading research institutions. Cornell biomedical scientists strive for excellence and use their knowledge to solve global problems and benefit society. During this innovative, intensive, and highly selective program, you will become part of the renowned biomedical research community at Cornell’s Ithaca campus, studying under the guidance of distinguished Cornell faculty members as you pursue research in an area of your choosing.

ENVIRONMENTAL STUDIES SUMMER YOUTH INSTITUTE (ESSYI)

Location: Seneca, NY
Program Dates: July 16-29
Application Deadline: Open now - rolling basis
Description: From website: Located in the heart of New York’s Finger Lakes region, on beautiful Seneca Lake, the Environmental Studies Summer AYouth Institute at Hobart and William Smith Colleges offers a two-week, college-level interdisciplinary program for talented high-school students. You will conduct research with faculty members in a variety of locations: on the HWS William F. Scandling (a 65-foot vessel on Seneca Lake), in streams, quaking bogs, the Adirondack Mountains, and the Colleges science laboratories. Working in the field, in laboratories, in classrooms, and on a four-day camping trip, you will explore a range of topics in environmental policy, economics, and ethics, and come to see the natural world through the eyes of artists, historians, philosophers, and scientists. Program is designed as an introduction to a variety of environmental issues and perspectives on nature and our environment. ESSYI provides students with an understanding of the different perspectives and disciplines from which a person can explore the environment and environmental issues. This experience often enables ESSYI alums to make much more informed decisions about majors, minors and other interests in college.

Bridge Pre-Health & Field Science Program
Location: Sewanee, TN
Program Dates: June 11 - July 1
Application Deadline: Apply online now - see website
Description: The Bridge Pre-Health & Field Science Program is a summer opportunity for rising high school seniors whose backgrounds and experiences would contribute to and enrich the diversity of our academic community and who are interested in studying pre-health sciences, field sciences, and math. The University of the South will host 20 students for 3 weeks on the domain. The applicants will select one of the two tracks offered: Pre-Health or Field Science, and outside of those track specific classes take calculus and statistics.

During the program both groups will learn coursework in their selected field that better prepares the students to enter their preferred area of study or simply help them discern if their selected track is really the focus they want in undergrad. Outside of the class time and seminars, students will experience life on the Domain in Sewanee, because college is not just about the classroom experience.

Sewanee’s facilities include state-of-the-art equipment, computerized classrooms, and a 13,000-acre campus that provides ample opportunity for research and recreation.

Science- STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Math)

Google in Education Computer Science Summer Institute
Location: Various locations - see website
Program Dates: Various dates depending on location - see website
Application Deadline: March 2
Description: Kick start your university studies in computer science with an unforgettable summer program at Google. Google’s seventh annual Computer Science Summer Institute (CSSI) is a three-week introduction to computer science for graduating high school seniors with a passion for technology — especially students from historically underrepresented groups in the field.

CSSI is not your average summer camp. It’s an intensive, interactive, hands-on and fun program that seeks to inspire the tech leaders and innovators of tomorrow by supporting the study of computer science, software engineering and other closely related subjects.

As CSSI students, you will learn programming fundamentals directly from Google engineers, get an inside look at some of Google’s most exciting, emerging technologies, and even design and develop your very own application with fellow participants that you will showcase to Googlers in local offices.

You’ll attend the program at one of our Google office locations in Mountain View, Calif., Boston, or Seattle/Kirkland, and experience firsthand Google’s unique and innovative office culture. And at the end of each day, attendees will enjoy a unique residential experience in dorm-style housing at local universities.

Financial Aid and Scholarships: CSSI is an all-expenses-paid program. Google will provide housing, meals and transportation for invited students.

WPI Frontiers Program- Worcester Institute of Technology
Location: Worcester, MA
Program Dates: July 9-21 or July 23 - August 4
Application Deadline: Opens February 4 - see website for details
Description: Get ready to be challenged to explore the outer limits of knowledge in science, mathematics, and engineering with the Frontiers research and learning experience, now in its 33nd year.
The focus is on students learning current laboratory techniques and exploring unsolved problems across a wide spectrum of engineering, mathematics, science, and robotics disciplines. Rounding out the academic experience are humanities and arts workshops in areas such as writing, art, music, theatre, and more.
Learn from outstanding professors utilizing state-of-the-art technology and facilities, and enjoy added activities such as evening workshops, field trips, movies, live performances, and tournaments.

NASA STEM Enhancement in Earth Science (SEES) High School Intern Program
Location: See website
Program Dates: Various internships - see website
Application Deadline: April 4
Description: NASA, Texas Space Grant Consortium, and The University of Texas at Austin Center for Space Research Summer Intern Program is a nationally competitive STEM program for high school students. The program provides selected students with exposure to Earth and space research. Interns will learn how to interpret NASA satellite data while working with scientists and engineers in their chosen area of work.

California State Summer School for Mathematics and Science (COSMOS)
Location: California - see website for details
Program Dates: July 9 - August 5
Application Deadline: Available January 17
Description: California State Summer School for Mathematics and Science (COSMOS) is a four-week summer residential program that gives high school students who have demonstrated skills within STEM subjects (science, technology, mathematics and engineering) opportunities to explore beyond their usual high school curriculum. Students are able to work on advanced topics with renowned faculty members, scientists and researchers as well as experience state-of-the-art lab environments and facilities. Participants will also have the opportunity to take university-level courses and gain an awareness of both educational and career options within the STEM fields. The students attending the program live in campus housing with other program participants. Full and partial scholarships are available.

INTRO TO ROBOTICS AT IIT
Location: Chicago, IL
Program Dates: June 15 - June 28 &
Application Deadline: Open now - see website
Description: From website: The objective of this course is to provide an introductory experience to the field of robotics. Included in this experience, will be the engineering design process, a university-level programming language, and open-ended problem solving strategies. Students, working in small hands-on teams, will be presented with several authentic design challenges. To meet these challenges, students will design, build, and program an appropriate LEGO® EV3 robot, with National Instruments LabVIEW software. Teams will document and present their design solutions. Additional topics may include motor control, gear ratios, torque, friction, sensors, timing, program loops, logic gates, decision-making, and timing sequences. The program also lets students experience what it’s like to study and play on IIT Main Campus.

STONES AND BONES: A PRACTICUM IN PALEONTOLOGY
Location: Chicago, IL
Program Dates: Check website
Description: From website: Join the Field Museum’s Distinguished Service Curator Lance Grande for a four-week intensive practicum in paleontology. Go into the field and behind the scenes at the Field Museum to learn how fossils are collected, analyzed, and conserved, as you work alongside museum scientists in the lab and in the field. In Chicago, Grande and other Field Museum scientists will take you into the labs and galleries where they work and study as they introduce you to important concepts in geology, paleontological method, stratigraphy, and earth history. You will also learn about basic techniques for the study of evolutionary biology including comparative skeletal anatomy of fishes and other freshwater animals. You will also examine methodological concepts such as fossil preparation, illustration, and description. In this way, you will acquire the fundamental scientific background needed to discover and understand the significance of fossils in the field. Then, experience what life in the field is all about when you join the ongoing Field Museum expedition in the Green River Formation. This site is one of the world's most productive fossil sites and contains an entire 52-million-year-old community of extinct organisms. Previous expeditions to the Green River Formation have led Dr. Grande and his team to uncover thousands of fossils, including plants, insects, mammals, crocodiles, birds, lizards, turtles, and fishes, many of which are currently on https://summer.uchicago.edu/programs/stones-and-bones

PHOENIX SISTER CITIES YOUTH AMBASSADOR EXCHANGE PROGRAM
From website: Phoenix high school sophomores and juniors apply to be selected to serve as a Youth Ambassador to one of Phoenix's ten Sister Cities. Upon selection the Youth Ambassadors will participate in Academy Sessions where they not only learn how to interact in their host country and what they can expect, but also how to best represent Phoenix, the state of Arizona, and the United States abroad. Prior to the exchange, Youth Ambassadors will also participate in fundraising events. Each Youth Ambassador will depart in the summer to spend approximately three weeks in the Sister City they are assigned. They will live with a host family and an international counterpart where they will be fully immersed in the culture of the Sister City.
While abroad, Youth Ambassadors can expect an eye-opening experience learning all about the Sister City, their international counterpart, and themselves.
